

FUSION RALLY AT HEADQUARTERS

Citizen-Democratic Meeting the Occasion for Some Good
Addresses and Music.

STRONG ARRAY OF SPEAKERS.

Ben T. Lloyd, John F. Tobin, H. J.
Fitzgerald, Geo. Q. Morris, W. R.
Wallace Give Strong Talks.

At the Citizens-Democratic rally Saturday night in headquarters in the Colonial theater building, the speakers reached the center of a representative audience of citizens of Salt Lake. The situation which exists here was reviewed in its various phases. The audience was told the remedy for the evil—the election of the Citizens-Democratic ticket which stands on a non-partisan platform and for the best interests of the city.

The Hyde string orchestra rendered several delightful selections and Miss Katherine Davis sang two solos. The musical program was one of the features of the rally and was greeted with applause.

Chairman Ben T. Lloyd called the meeting to order and introduced the orchestra, which rendered a selection. Chairman Lloyd then named George N. Lawrence, candidate for city attorney, as chairman of the meeting. In a few remarks, he referred to the condition of city affairs in Salt Lake. He declared that the "American" party had appealed to the religious prejudices of the people and stirred up strife among them which was a detriment to Salt Lake City. The one thing to do, he said, was to make this a grand city and a happy place to live in. The people would change this situation by electing a non-partisan ticket and clearing the city and county of the "American" party.

FOR PEACE AND PROSPERITY.

John T. Tobin, chairman of the Fifth ward committee, was called by Chairman Lawrence. His remarks were for peace and prosperity. He approved of the manner in which the Citizens had taken up the non-partisan movement. The progress made, he said, in so short a time, was encouraging, and that it showed that the residents of Salt Lake were taking an interest in it.

The orchestra followed Mr. Tobin with a selection, and then H. J. Fitzgerald, candidate for city recorder, was introduced as the next speaker. He spoke of Salt Lake as a city for investment. The party strife which has existed here, Mr. Fitzgerald said, has been a detriment to the city. It was declared here progress would follow and Salt Lake would stand higher in the estimation of investors than any other city in this part of the country.

GEORGE Q. MORRIS.

George Q. Morris reviewed the conditions which exist here with the "American" party in power. He described it as one of strife and demoralization. He declared that he believed that the citizens of Salt Lake were sick of it. The success of the "American" party depends upon the growth of religious prejudices which are instilled into the people, he said.

It is absurd, Mr. Morris continued, to bring national issues into municipal campaigns. He urged the people to get together, take a broader view of the situation and consider the man who is best qualified to lead them.

He praised the candidates on the Citizens-Democratic ticket declaring that they were a clean set of men and stood upon principles above the plane of politics, and that it made no difference to him what their national politics were. He intended to support the ticket.

Miss Davis sang a solo which was greeted with applause and then she responded with an encore.

WILLIAM R. WALLACE.

William R. Wallace, candidate for mayor, was applauded when he took the platform. In plain language, Mr. Wallace outlined his principles in this campaign. He said that if he were elected he could take his office absolutely free of any political obligations. His attitude, he explained, would be independent in all matters pertaining to city affairs. He declared himself against the methods of the "American" party in handling the taxpayer's money, the manner in which the advertising was done without asking for bids. He touched on the condition of the city auditor's office and declared that an intelligent statement of the finances should be given to the public.

In regard to the selection of men to fill the offices, he asserted, that if he were elected that there would be no political or religious tests. He declared that he would be willing to appoint an "American" party man to office if he were competent to handle the work. He declared himself for a strict regulation of the liquor traffic in Salt Lake. He declared that many saloons catered to the trade of women and young men. This, he said ought to be cleaned out.

The orchestra rendered a selection and the meeting was then adjourned. After the adjournment several men and women in the audience volunteered to assist in the canvass and the work which is being done in the election districts. The workers were given instructions to get the voters out Tuesday to register so that they can vote on election day. The adjournment was held at the number of private residences on all day Tuesday.

"If you wish to vote a week from tomorrow, you must see that your name is on the registration lists TOMORROW."

ENGINE IS ORDERED FOR CASTLE VALLEY

Nearly Two Miles of Grading Done for New Coal Company Near Price
—Rails Are Arriving.

An engine has just been ordered for the railroad that is now being built from the Southern Utah railroad to the mines of the Castle Valley Coal company at Cedar creek. It is expected that this new piece of equipment will arrive within the next month and by that time the road will be nearing completion. The road leaves the Southern Utah road, which is being built by the Consolidated Fuel company, about 17 miles out from Price. The work was only started two weeks ago and already about two miles of grading has been done.

According to General Manager W. C. Oren rails and ties are beginning to arrive and it will be a matter of but a short time before the road is pushed through to Cedar creek. The sawmill that has just been installed at Cedar creek is turning out ties for the road as well as timbers for the mine. With the exception of a small amount of resurfacing to be done the Southern Utah road is finished to Miller creek canyon, where it connects with the two mile trackway to the Consolidated Fuel company mines.

The company has yet to put in a bridge over Miller creek where it will be necessary to unload the material for the tramway. The first locomotive to be received by the Consolidated company has arrived at Price from Lima, Ohio, and will be tried out within a few days.

A number of cars of machinery are in the yards at Price awaiting shipment to the Consolidated mine. This will be taken out as soon as the engine is in readiness. At the mines a large force of men is at work and it is believed it will be a matter of but a short time before the company will be in a position to place its product on the market.

JEFFERY WINS MAYOR.

Western Pacific Mammal Expresses
His Gratification in Telegram.

The following answer to the telegram of congratulation sent Mr. Jeffery by Mayor Brandford and other city officials from Wendover, Saturday, while on the Western Pacific excursion, was received Saturday:

"Hon. John E. Brandford, Mayor Salt Lake:

"The kind and appreciative expressions of the mayor, the president and members of the Salt Lake City council and the city officials and their wives are more than gratifying, and I am delighted to know that all enjoyed themselves. That the trip was a success and that you all were so favorably impressed by the physical features, so far as you were able to observe them, of Salt Lake City's new Pacific coast line. For four years I have had a feeling of profound satisfaction in knowing that the metropolis of Utah would be the central point on a great main line of railways about 1,200 miles long, extending from Denver to San Francisco, and the companies I represent hope to add greatly to the material prosperity of your city."

"E. T. JEFFERY,
"President."

MRS. BUCKER VINDICATED.

Albert L. Buckner, who was granted a divorce by Judge Morse Saturday from Mary B. Buckner, on the grounds of desertion, stated today that a mistake had been made in the publication of certain testimony in which it was alleged that the defendant had an "affinity" and left her husband for another man. Mr. Buckner stated that which is made on page 15, 1909, and he sued for divorce, there is nothing to the insinuation that she had made a confession to her husband of improper conduct. "I do not believe," said Mr. Buckner, "that she ever conducted herself in an improper manner and there is nothing to the story about her having eloped with an affinity. We were married in Ogden June 15, 1905, and have two children. Last April we separated and I secured a divorce on the grounds stated and have custody of the children."

WILL TRY IT AGAIN.

Divorced From Wife Reiter, Mrs. Moller Will Remarry.

After a year living alone and having her former husband into court for failure to pay alimony of $15 a month, Johanna Moller has decided to try it again. She has taken out a marriage license to marry Joseph H. Jennings of Salt Lake. The Moller divorce case was rather a stirring one. The wife charged Nicholas with beating her often at their home on 15th and South streets, and received a divorce a little more than a year ago.

The pallbearers were: Joseph H. Jennings, William Kirkham, John Hipson of the K. of P., and E. G. Thomas, James A. Lee and A. K. Williams of the Spanish War veterans. The funeral cortege was led to the cemetery by the band of the National guard and at the grave the ritual of the Knights of Pythias followed. The body was buried in the plot of the Spanish War veterans, and James A. Lee blew "taps."

FUNERAL OF WARREN FOSTER.

His Request Regarding Disposition of His Body Complied With.

Agreeable to the request of Warren Foster, funeral services were held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the Old Fellows temple. After which the corpse was accompanied to the railway station by lodge No. 1 in full regalia, and shipped to Denver for cremation on the Pacific coast line.

The services were attended by a large number of people, and consisted of reading the Masonic ritual, after which the Rev. P. A. Simpkins delivered a brief but strong address, in which he alluded to the idea of universal brotherhood as dominating the death of the life.

The Rev. Thurston Brown then spoke at length on the simplicity and sterling honesty of the man. The only eulogist was the Rev. P. A. Foster expressed a wish to have sung at his funeral. They were "Nearer my God to thee," and "When the angels have rolled away."

THIEVES VISIT BARROOM.

Robbers broke into the desk at the Combination saloon, at 42 east Second South street, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, and got away with $25 which had been "banked" there by John Elliott the proprietor, who was standing bar at the time. A large number of men were in the place, and Elliott says that two of them engaged him in conversation while their confederates looted the desk. The police have not caught the thieves.

QUICK ACTION IN DIVORCE COURT

James Meier Accommodated With A Decree in a Very Few Minutes.

MARRIED OVER 30 YEARS.

Property Divided—Five Sons in Family, the Oldest Being 28 Years
—Court News.

Judge Morse this morning granted a divorce to James Meier from his wife, Anne Meier, by default. The wife consenting to the proceeding. Meier filed his complaint a few minutes before the decree was granted, charging his wife with cruelty and willful desertion. The complaint set forth that Mrs. Meier had for more than a year past refused to acknowledge him as a husband and would not allow him in certain rooms of her house, and that she had at all times expressed antipathy and contempt for him and would go for days without speaking to him. She traduced and vilified him to their neighbors, the plaintiff says, and finally on the first of April last she threatened violence and drove him away from home.

They were married Nov. 16, 1878, and have five sons, the oldest being 28 years old and the youngest 18 years old. It was shown that the property interests involved had been divided among the parties interested, and only a simple decree of divorce was granted the husband.

COURT NOTES.

Judgment for $48.75 has been entered in Judge Morse's court in an action brought by the McConaughy Lumber company against M. M. King, for amounts due for lumber. The case was originally filed against Maria Thurgood and M. M. King, but was dismissed as to defendant Thurgood and the judgment against King includes interest on the amount from Sept. 3, 1908.

WIZARD'S WARDS IN SESSION.

Three Hundred Sponsors Plan Great Celebration Next Year.

The meeting of the wizards of the Wizard of the Wasatch at the Commercial club Saturday evening was attended by over 300 men, all of whom voted it a highly successful affair. About 100 new members were added to the organization, and the meeting is considered a long step forward in the direction of the success of the celebration next summer which is expected to rival in magnificence the Mardi Gras at New Orleans or the Alsar-Ben at Omaha.

The program consisted of a number of amusements, with music and speeches interspersed. At the outset Capt. Calne, who is acting secretary, read a number of telegrams from a number of men of world-wide reputation, such as President Taft, Dr. Cook, Peary, Edward VII. and Czar Nicholas, congratulating those present on the importance of the undertaking. A representation of the directors' meeting of the D. A. and M. society was given at which the "true awareness" of the trouble between President McConaughy and Lester Foster was shown, which created much diversion. Among the speakers of the evening was W. J. Halloran, president of the club, who spoke of the good that will be accomplished by the movement. The Rev. P.

A. Simpkins also delivered an address in which he referred in terms of approval to the proposed celebration, the suggestion for which came from Fisher Harris, secretary of the club, who was absent.

NEGRESSES GROW BOLDER.

When Arrested, Which Is Rare, They Are Released by Police.

The strong-arm negroes, who have terrorized the lower districts of the city without molestation from the police for months, still appear to be immune from arrest. Joseph Jappa was struck and robbed of $25 by the black criminals in petticoats at First West and First South streets. One of the female holdups stabbed him with a knife in the side, and after pursuing her for several blocks, the wounded man became so weakened by loss of blood that he was compelled to give up the chase. Shortly afterwards he met Sergt. Beckstead, who conducted him to the emergency hospital, where his wounds were dressed. Jappa will recover. The police, as has always been the case in complaints against these negroes, failed to make an arrest.

L. E. Osborne of 448 Fourth East street, was strong-armed and robbed of $20 by two negroes in Franklin avenue. On reporting the robbery to the police a patrolman was detailed to accompany Osborne to the place where the holdup occurred, and when they arrived there, Osborne pointed the two negroes out to the patrolman, who arrested them and took them to the station. They were later released by the police.
